THE VOICE OF THANKSGIVING

Official Newsletter of Glad Tidings 3AM

The "Voice of Thanksgiving"

We hope that all were blessed by the inaugural issue of our newsletter. We believe that this small publication will be the means of familiarizing many minds, not only with updates regarding the movements of Glad Tidings 3AM, but with the sacred truths needing to be understood by all minds, "both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond." Revelation 13:16 We have decided to name this Newsletter, "The Voice of Thanksgiving", taking inspiration from Psalm 26:7, as David sites the need to "publish" with his voice the wondrous works of the Lord. The "present truth", as it is described in 2 Peter 1:12, is an appellation given to express the eternal truth of the gospel that has been committed to chosen men and women throughout the annals of sacred history and especially specified for this last generation in Revelation 14:6-12. This "Present Truth" we believe needs to be published with a loud voice, communicating in clear lines the great truths of the gospel and the best way to accomplish this grand enterprise is with the hallowed Voice of Thanksgiving.

FAMILY CORNER:

By Erika Tucker

As we begin our discourses regarding the family, we want to emphasize our desire that these segments will help to bring about healing, restoration, and immense happiness within our "sacred circles". It is to be understood that every man, woman, boy, and girl has been and is still being influenced by their home of origin and that their current family circle is in turn influencing others. We know that Christ has to be the foundation of every home and from the beginning it was God who orchestrated the coming together of the first human family. (Genesis 1:26). Our favorite quote on the heart of society and the church being the home comes from the book The Ministry of Healing.

"The restoration and uplifting of humanity begins in the home. The work of parents underlies every other. Society is composed of families, and is what the heads of families make it. Out of the heart are "the issues of life" (Proverbs 4:23); and the heart of the community, of the church, and of the nation is the household. The well-being of society, the success of the church, the prosperity of the nation, depend upon home influences." MH 349.1

The Fog of War

BY SAMUEL TUCKER

The current crisis in Palestine has generated global interest, from the avid student of geopolitics to the man or woman of common occupation. The attention of all has been riveted to the 141 square mile strip of land, recurrently called Gaza. The dominating narrative given, especially in most of the western controlled media, is that on October 7th, 2023, one of the most brutal acts of terrorism was perpetrated by the Islamist group Hamas, which politically controls the Gaza Strip, upon the Israeli state, leaving hundreds dead, the majority being civilians. As a result of this gruesome act of violence, the mass slaughter of Palestinian civilians now taking place in Gaza by the IDF, or Israel Defense Forces, is not only justified but glorified, so that the Hamas militants, taking shelter amidst the civilian population, may be rooted out and exterminated. Though any honorable man would surely greatly lament the killing of any innocent soul, merely demonizing Hamas and the average Palestinian civilian is not enough to resolve this episode. It would take much space to entirely outline the full context of this conflict but as the sacred volume tells us in 2 Timothy 6:12, "For the love of money is the root of all evil", and in the words of Smedley Butler, the famed and decorated 20th century World War 1 Marine Corps Officer, "War is a Racket", we can rest assured that at the root of this strenuous epoch in the worlds history, that the "love of money", which at its core is selfishness, is the fundamental cause of this humanitarian catastrophe. When dealing with these issues, the innate inclination to take sides within a conflict is a natural human tendency, embedded in the impulse to seek truth and justice, as given by God in Genesis 3:15, amidst the overtly warring elements. As already mentioned, the mass of the world's population has been told to see the Israeli state and its citizens as the victims and arbiters of righteousness, while the common Palestinian civilian has been dehumanized and demonized enough, in order to justify their extermination, for the purpose of rooting out "the real enemy", in this case being Hamas. "WAR is a racket. It always has been. It is possibly the oldest, easily the most profitable, surely the most vicious. It is the only one international in scope. It is the only one in which the profits are reckoned in dollars and the losses in lives."

SMEDLEY BUTLER

The unfortunate consequence of this iteration of reality, is that it takes unlawful advantage of man's aforementioned desire for justice and twists it so as to garner undue complicity and support for the ethnic cleansing of a whole host of God's children. The pages of that holy book, the Bible, tells us in Ephesians 6:12, "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." This objective view by the Divine Watcher, of the state of geopolitical affairs globally, reveals to us that many men and women in leadership position around the world, are using their rank and influence, in direct fellowship with Satan and his angels, in order to gain the ascendency. Not only economically and socially, but in all of the affairs of man that deal with his well being in this world and in the world to come. This is also commented upon by Edith Star Miller, the British socialite and author, who wrote under the alias of Lady Queensborough, in her 1933 work, "Occult Theocracy". "The esoteric aims of most societies are all directed towards the same end - namely: the concentration of political, economic, and intellectual power into the hands of a small group of individuals, each of whom controls a branch of the international life, material and spiritual, of the world today. The main branches thus controlled are: - 1 - The International Banking Groups and their subsidiaries. 2. - International Industrial and commercial control groups, with their interlocking directorates." {Occult Theocracy, pg. 661} This fact must always be kept in mind when assessing these tense issues, for as time lapses, it seems to always be revealed that, there is some form of cooperation on both sides of the "conflict". So that where as history shows bitterest enemies to the public, "secret friendship" reveals shared goals and objectives to those who are privy to the true motives of the war's "actors". LADY QUEENSBOROUGH

The tribalism that is so naturally encouraged when dealing with such issues is, as mentioned, to be expected with those who do not know the Lord but this "Mass Formation Psychosis", as it has been termed by leading intellectuals, is to be lamentably found within the ranks of the Christian Church. As a result of this sad state of affairs, Christians, especially those who live under the influence of western military propaganda, have become to a great degree, nothing more than mere parrots of the will of the powers that should not be. To add insult to injury, supposed Bible expositors and so called Christian theologians have gone so far as to use the sacredness of Bible prophecy to give the highest levels of spiritual credibility to the actions of the Israeli government. These misguided Christian leaders and people claim with resounding assurance, that the current state of Israel was not only God ordained but that the Jewish people as a whole are still the chosen messengers of salvation, as were the ancient Hebrews. This enormously destructive example of eisegesis, or "private interpretation" as it is referred to in 2 Peter 1:20, is the root cause of the general support that has been given to the state of Israel by Christians and the genocidal measures of its military. Sadly, especially in The United States of America, in conjunction with the misinterpretations put upon the scriptures, American Christians have generally been so brainwashed as to be some of the greatest cheerleaders for the diabolical policies of U.S. domestic and foreign strategy. In this final hour of the world, the Lord is calling upon His people to be the beacon of light, love, and hope that they are admonished to be, instead of mere playthings in the hands of wicked men and demons. Amidst the general confusion to which we now see, let those who love their Creator not get lost in the fog of war but to pray and work earnestly for the salvation of the lost, whether is Israel, Palestine, America, or Iran, may that sacred voice still call, "Fear God and give glory to Him for the hour of His judgment is come"! Are the Jews Still the Chosen People of God? Pt. 1

By Ikemba Balogu

Are the Jews as a nation still the chosen people of God? With this question in mind, let us take a look at a certain prophecy given by the Lord to the inspired prophet Jeremiah: (Read Jeremiah 19:1-11) Please read this passage over again because we will bring it under thorough investigation and intense scrutiny. Now, it is worthy to note the point of time to which this prophetic passage was fulfilled. The point of time to which it applies is not the siege and destruction of the city and the captivity of the people by Nebuchadnezzar:

- Because in the siege of Nebuchadnezzar, although "all the bread in the city was spent" (Jer. 37:21), the people were not driven by such dire starvation as to give themselves over to the consumption of human flesh, be it the flesh of their own children or the flesh of a friend (read Jer. 19:9).
- Because the same prophet Jeremiah was instructed by the Lord to tell those same people that the destruction of the city and the scattering of the people by Nebuchadnezzar would be for "seventy years" (Jeremiah 25:8-11; 29:10). Afterwards, they would be gathered together again from every nation, and the city would be rebuilt: (Read Jeremiah 33:10, 11; also read verses 6-9).

Both of these facts make it undeniably clear that the prophecy of Jeremiah 19 as given by the symbol of the potter's earthen bottle and the breaking of that bottle (Jer. 19:1-11; 18:1-6) had no relation to the destruction of the city and the captivity of the people by Nebuchadnezzar. Yet, a study of the facts as given in the Scriptures make it unequivocally certain that the point of time at which Jeremiah 19 does apply is the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the Jews by the Romans in 70 A.D., under Titus.

Are the Jews Still the Chosen People of God? Pt. 1 Continued...

Both of these facts make it undeniably clear that the prophecy of Jeremiah 19 as given by the symbol of the potter's earthen bottle and the breaking of that bottle (Jer. 19:1-11; 18:1-6) had no relation to the destruction of the city and the captivity of the people by Nebuchadnezzar. Yet, a study of the facts as given in the Scriptures make it unequivocally certain that the point of time at which Jeremiah 19 does apply is the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the Jews by the Romans in 70 A.D., under Titus.

- Because at that time of the siege by Rome, the people were brought to such dire starvation as to eat human flesh, even the flesh of their own children, if not a friend (Jer.19:9). You may read the dreadful account as written by the Jewish historian, Flavius Josephus (37 A.D. – 100 A.D.) in "Wars of the Jews," book 5, chap. 10; and book 6, chap.3.
- In the book of Deuteronomy, Moses also foretold of this time: (Read Deut. 28:53-57). For the number of captives and the destruction and scattering of the people at that time, you may read the record as written by Flavius Josephus, "Wars of the Jews," book 6, chap. 9, and by Milman's "History of the Jews," last paragraphs of book 16.

Keeping in mind that Jeremiah 19 applies to the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the people by the Romans in 70 A.D., what does this same passage say concerning the return of the Jews after the destruction of Jerusalem and the scattering of the people by the Romans? Let us see now. What was done with that bottle? "Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee" (Jer. 19:10;). So, what kind of bottle was it? "A potter's earthen bottle" (verse 1). What is the inevitable result of such a bottle when it has been broken? It "cannot be made whole again." Not that it "will not be made whole again" but it "cannot be made whole again."

That is to say, if it was a brazen or glass bottle, and it were broken, it could be made whole again, even if it was accomplished only by melting and molding it. However, when clay (read Jer. 18:1-6) has once been burned to make a vessel, nothing can ever be made of it afterward, even if it is to be reduced to dust.

This shows that an earthen vessel, once broken, literally "cannot be made whole again." Even further, when Jeremiah had broken that bottle, which could not be made whole again, then he said to those who witnessed it, "Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again."

Then what is to be said of the Jews, not as individuals, but as a people, even as a nation today? It "cannot be made whole again."

Since the Lord declared concerning the ancient Jews as a nation, "I will break this people...as one breaketh a potter's vessel," since a potter's vessel "cannot be made whole again," and since that which "cannot be made whole again" is permanently broken, then how is it that anybody could entertain the thought that modern Jews as a nation are still the chosen people of God today simply because they are Jews?

Whatever men may say and whatever men might do, the words of God remain true:

"Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again."
